WE CAN LEARN FROM THE MORMONS

The Mormon church made a survey for relief among its members in Utah, Idaho and Arizona, which showed 85,469 church members on relief. According to the report 13,455 were on relief due to unemployment, and 11,500 to 15,500 persons "received relief who either did not need it, or who had farms that might, if farmed, have kept them off relief."

TO FOLLOW SCRIPTURE

While politicians and others are spilling salt-water tears about the unfortunate fellows the Mormon church out at Salt Lake City has announced to the world that it will follow the scripture and "gird up their loins—fresh courage take"—and take care of themselves!

PRACTICAL STEPS

Brigham Young once declared that "we have among us the Lord's poor—the devil's poor and 'poor devils.'" President Heber J. Grant endorses the philosophy of the great leader of the Mormon pilgrims of 1847 in a practical way, and he has rallied the church to a program that provides for made-work to increasing the acreage devoted to raising sugar beets; to a day of fasting each month by all Mormons and the cost saved for two meals to be paid over in cash to the bishops. The regular tithing system of the church will yield its part of the necessary funds, and the farmers with their equipment will each donate one or more days to properly prepare and plant beets to be cultivated and raised by their less fortunate citizens and neighbors.

The Mormons are renowned for maintaining their own standard in human problems. They do not believe in the new-fangled national bargeage about chastising the rich. (Continued on Page 8)

NOTES SENT HENRY FORD POPE PIUS

NEW YORK, June 15.—UP—Gregor Aharon, 52 year old antique art dealer, was arrested late today on complaint of J. P. Morgan, financier, who charged Aharon with attempting to coerce him into buying a $2,000,000 "genuine" Michelangelo statue.

LETTERS SENT
Aharon was arrested by alien squad detectives and post office inspector, Charles Clabahan, after Morgan told police Aharon had sent him letters threatening injury or death unless the financier bought the statue.

Police said Aharon admitted sending letters to Morgan, Edsel Ford and the Pope, describing the statue which he said was a "rare antique by Michelangelo."

Morgan said a letter arrived six months ago acquainting him with Aharon's offer. When he did not answer, other letters became more insistent. During the past week, when they became threatening, he turned them over to police.

Aharon said other antique dealers verified his claims that the statue was genuine. He came from Armenia in 1906. Arrangement is set for tomorrow.

MORE STUDY TO BE GIVEN TO PROPOSAL

An attempt to rush through a resolution endorsing a proposed new express route of the East Bay Terminal Railway Company from Richmond to San Francisco, at the meeting of the Council last evening, was laid over for one week.

PUT OVER WEEK
Councilmen Mattie A. Chandler, made a motion to defer the matter, stating that she was not prepared to vote on it at this time, as she had no time to consider it. The motion was carried.

The matter came up just before the council was ready to adjourn when Attorney Arthur Alstrom asked if no action was to be taken on a resolution endorsing the new rapid bus plan.

NEW TO THEM
All the members professed ignorance of such a resolution.

Alstrom said the East Bay Terminal Railway system called him up and asked him to be sure and see that the resolution was adopted.

Finally Alstrom pulled a number of copies of such a resolution out of his pocket, and handed them to the members of the council.

HORNER OBJECTS
A motion was made that the resolution be adopted, but at this point Attorney C. D. Horner, said that possibly the resolution was all right he did not know, but he felt that some consideration should be given to such a move. Horner stated he represented another transportation company, and he felt the council.

LOUIS-SCHMELLING FIGHT TO ATTRACT 85,000 FANS, FIFTH GATE OF MILLION

GERMAN TO GIVE NEGRO REAL FIGHT

NEW YORK, June 15.—UP—A throng of 85,000 persons will assemble in Yankee Stadium Thursday night to see Joe Louis, the mighty brown man, battle Max Schmelling, former heavyweight champion from Germany, in a scheduled 15-round international bout.

These two fighters—Louis, 22 year old Negro born in a cabin in the cottonfields of Alabama, and Schmelling, 30 year old German who capitalized on the fact that he bears a striking facial resemblance to Jack Dempsey—will draw the first $1,000,000 boxing gate in nine years.

It will be the fifth fight to draw a $1,000,000 at the gate, and the first since the golden era of Dempsey. Another record which will be wiped out is the $1,083,520 mark for a non-title bout—set by the Dempsey-Sharkey match in 1927.

PAY TO SEE LOUIS
Ninety-nine cents out of every dollar spent at the gate will be shelled out to see Louis batter another ex-champion into the resin and go on to a world's heavyweight title match with James J. Braddock in September.

Louis is the lure, Schmelling is the sacrificial lamb, Mike Jacobs, Twentieth Century club promoter, has equalled any promotional feat of Tex Rickard's in ballyhooing the Louis-Schmelling match into a $1,000,000 battle.

Schmelling, knocked out four times in his career, badly beaten in his last two appearances in this country and never over-popular because he won the heavyweight title while on the floor crying, "Poul," was a piece of the figure to beat the Louis-Louis for.

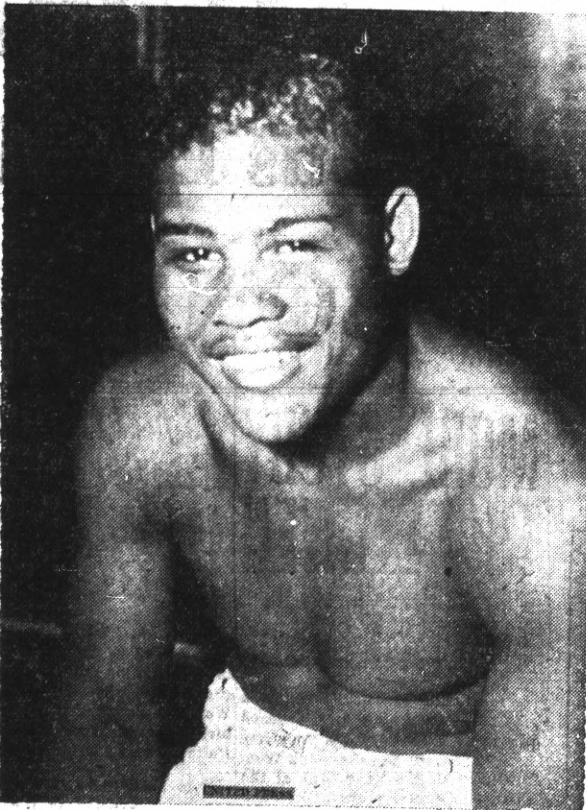

But there was one quality the dark-skinned German seemed to have that Louis' recent victims lacked, and that was courage. King Levinsky, Max Baer and Charlie Ritzdaff all were terror-stricken before they crawled into the ring to face the Brown Bomber's lethal fists. Even Paulino Uzcudun, the sturdy oak from the Pyrenees who boasted he had never been knocked down, got the jitters as he waited in his dressing room to meet the "brown executioner." Primo Carnera was the bravest of the lot, but even he wilted the first time Schmelling's Joe jolted him.

SCHMELLING SEEMS CONFIDENT
Up to now Schmelling has remained supremely confident of his ability to face Louis' deadly attack, and emerge victorious. Through his long training, grind-at-Napamuch, N. Y., the German has kept his poise and confidence. Schmelling's attitude also kept the daily hoop rolling and the ticket sale humming—but can the German keep his courage up in the last few terrifying hours before the battle? Few think so.

Louis probably will enter the ring a 5-1 or better favorite. The Black Uhlan has made a more intensive study of Louis than any fighter who has yet faced the Brown Bomber. He came to this country purposely to see Louis in action against Paulino Uzcudun. He did not sign to meet Louis until he had seen the heralded Brown Bomber in action. He has studied the moving pictures of the Louis-Carnera and Louis-Baer fights. And he thinks he knows the weakness of Louis.

SAID HE HAS SECRET
"I know how to beat Louis," said

Brown Bomber

CAN MAX SCHMELLING knock off that smile in his fight with the redoubtable Louis on Thursday night of this week? Both battlers have predicted victory for themselves, but the betting is heavy that the Negro will take the German into camp.

Schmelling after the Paulino fight. He said the same thing again when he returned to this country to start training. Many persons doubted that Max would come back even after getting a $20,000 advance from Mike Jacobs.

Some believe Schmelling, always a good business man, took the Louis match solely because he stood to collect $300,000. That may be true but, if you take Schmelling's word for it, he wouldn't take a licking from any other man for $1,000,000.

Louis goes against Schmelling after the first long layoff of his career. He has been out of action since January 17, when he knocked out Charlie Ritzdaff in one round at Chicago. The inactivity didn't set well with the Brown Bomber. He constantly complained that he did not relish the idle time on his hands. He had been used to fighting at least once a month. A big eater, Louis took on weight and was slow getting started in his training. He actually looked bad in some of his workouts.

BROWN STATED ROUTE
During his meteoric rise to flistic fame, Louis engaged in 27 professional bouts, knocking out 21 of his opponents. The last man to go the distance was Nattie Brown, who took a severe beating at Detroit, March 29, 1935.

The only question unanswered about Louis is: Can he take it? Schmelling seems likely to supply the answer to that query. The German throws a pretty good punch with his right. He's accurate, throwing his fists from close range. After losing the title to Sharkey on a questionable decision, Schmelling knocked out Mickey Walker, a middleweight who had no business in the ring with him, and then went into temporary decline. He was knocked out by Max Baer in 10 rounds, lost a 12 round decision to Steve Hamas and was held to a 15-round draw by Paulino.

Vergez is the only one of the new quartet well known on the coast. For a time he was one of the outstanding infielders in the game but injuries and illness prevented him from fulfilling the promise he showed.

Garibaldi went to the Sacramento team this spring in a deal with the San Francisco Seals. He proved one of the hardest hitters on the team the Cardinal system placed in Sacramento for its first year in the Pacific Coast League circuit.

SHAKE-UP OF SAC SENATORS TO BE STARTED

SACRAMENTO, June 15.—UP—Phil Bartelme, president of the Sacramento team of the St. Louis Cardinal chain system, today announced plans for immediate rebuilding of the club which occupies the cellar position in the Pacific Coast League race.

Bartelme's announcement came after the team had lost 12 straight games and after the sale, to the St. Louis Cardinals, of one of its strongest players, Art Garibaldi, second baseman.

The club president said that thru the sale of Garibaldi, who is being promoted to the major league team to fill in for Manager Frankie Frisch, the Sacramento club will receive nine new players.

Four of them will join the club next week. They are Johnny Vergez, Oakland boy who played third base for the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Phillies before his recent transfer to the Cardinals; John Frank Doljack, a slugging outfielder now with the Columbus team of the American Association, and Pitchers Robert Ross and William Donald Cox, transferred from other St. Louis farms. The other five players are marked for delivery next year.

Mere Twins Noisier Than Quints

Twins guns—two of the Army's 14-inch Coast defense guns—set up for target practice north of Oceanside. Each gun weighs 365 tons, or 40 times as much as the bus in the foreground. Aside from their two mates in Panama, these mammoth guardians of the California Coast line are the only modern, long range, heavy railroad guns in the United States. One-quarter ton of powder was used to hurl a huge armor-piercing projectile nearly 23 miles.

Brought West after the World War, one was fired a few times eight years ago. The other had been idle during its residence in California, until this practice. The firing was in charge of Lieut. Col. Homer R. Oldfield, commanding the Harbor Defenses of Los Angeles. The guns were manned by members of the 3rd and 63rd Coast Artillery, U. S. Army, and the 604th Coast Artillery Reserve. (Ry.).

All three refused hospital treatment and proceeded on their way. Mello was uninjured.

The laboratory was situated in a woods, eight kilometers from Tallinn. Cause of the explosion was unknown.

Reserve army officers were attending a special instruction course in the laboratory and of 180 known to be present, only 90 had been accounted for tonight.

DEADLOCK ON TAX BILL TO BE SMASHED

WASHINGTON, June 15.—UP—A break within 24 hours in the rigid deadlock gripping the Administration's new tax bill and threatening to delay final adjournment of the 74th Congress until next month, was forecast tonight by Democratic leaders.

Temper short and nerves frayed after a week of sharp but futile deliberations, conferees today resumed the task of seeking to reconcile mountainous differences in revenue measures enacted by the two houses. They made no progress in a two-hour session and left muttering warnings that a "showdown" was imminent.

COMPROMISE SEEN

The conferees also indicated strongly that the best President Roosevelt can expect at this session is a "face-saving compromise"—a bill embracing his policy of forcing corporations to distribute more dividends by taxing business profits, but not containing the drastic rates of corporate earnings voted by the House, said to be acceptable to Mr. Roosevelt, but rejected by the Senate.

Two Senate Democrats—Walter George of Georgia and David I. Walsh of Massachusetts—have joined with three Senate Republicans conferees to give the upper house a majority in holding out against the sweeping rates on corporation profits approved by the lower body.

WILL REPEAL TAX

The House set-up would repeal the present corporation income excess profits taxes ranging from 12 1/2 to 15 per cent; tax dividend at the normal four per cent rate and impose a sliding scale of rates ranging up to 42 1/2 per cent on undivided corporate profits. The Senate bill proposes to retain the present corporate tax structure and increase the rates three per cent while imposing a flat seven per cent tax on undivided earnings.

China General Urges War On Jap Invaders

HONGKONG, June 15.—UP—General Yen Hsi-Shan, pacification commissioner of the northern province of Shanxi and Suiyuan, today urged immediate mobilization of Chinese troops for military action against Japan in Northern China.

General Yen, an appointee of the Nanking Central Government, who is presently opposed to drastic anti-Japanese action, has been in rebellion against the Nanking Government several times. He is an ardent advocate of a unified China to preserve the nation's northern province from Japanese penetration.

Meanwhile, General Tsiang Kai-shang, hero of the Shanghai "war" of 1932, volunteered to reform the famous 19th route army and lead his troops against Japan.

Interviewed by the United Press, General Tsiang said: "no anti-Japanese resistance could be successful without the support and co-operation of the entire country."

Ravaging Horde Of Caterpillars Invade Ontario

SUDBURY, Ont., June 15.—UP—A ravaging horde of millions of caterpillars undulated in a 175-mile front over thousands of square miles of Northern Ontario tonight, stripping forests, devouring crops, and even stopping trains. All efforts to destroy them or to stop their march had been futile. They multiply so rapidly that despite the millions killed, their numbers increased quickly, although the life of the species is only two days. Agricultural authorities said the visitation was not expected to last longer than another week and that it was not at its height. Little could be done to combat the plague. Plans to spray poison from planes were abandoned as impracticable. Gasoline and kerosene were poured over the massed pests and lighted, but those burned were a small portion of the horde.

Rain Storms In Oregon Damage Fruits And Nuts

PORTLAND, Ore., June 15.—UP—Torrential rain, hail and wind caused thousands of dollars damage to farm and orchard crops in Oregon today. The cherry crop, now being harvested, was hard hit. Cherries cracked open as the rain continued. Rain and hail beat down hay so that mowing will be impossible in many fields. Grain was leveled, but most of this stand will have a chance to recover before harvest. The wet weather caused a blight to attack walnuts, mildew was ruining the seed onion crop and downy mildew was damaging hops, in many sections. A half-inch of rain at The Dalles, and near-cloudbursts in adjacent areas sent two feet of water swirling over the Dalles-California highway for a few minutes.

Coughlin-Townsend Candidates Trail

AUGUSTA, Me., Tuesday, June 16.—UP—All but one of the candidates endorsed by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin and Townsend plan supporters were lagging behind their opponents in Maine's primary election, returns from nearly half of the precincts showed early today. James C. Oliver of South Portland, who has the backing of both the Townsend forces and Father Coughlin, jumped into the lead in the G. O. P. battle for nomination in the First Congressional district.

TWO KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT HERE ON SUNDAY

Two men were killed and four persons were injured in automobile accidents in this area Sunday. Elliot C. Broyer, 25, of Roseville, co-owner and public administrator for placer county, died of injuries and Calisto Abreu, of Concord was instantly killed when their cars collided on the Tank Farm hill. Broyer's bride of only three hours was cut and bruised in the crash. John Andrada, 65, of San Pablo, who was riding with Abreu, was also cut and bruised. Broyer's body was sent to Roseville yesterday morning in a willson and Kratzer auto hearse. His bride, the former Miss La-lene Burnson of Roseville, accompanied the body. Broyer's body has been taken to a Vallejo funeral chapel where last rites are pending. Broyer and his wife were married in Vallejo at 1:30 on Sunday. They were en route to the bay region on a honeymoon tour when their machine collided head-on with Abreu's car shortly after four o'clock on the Tank Farm hill. According to police reports, Abreu turned out to pass another car and his machine crashed head-on with the couple's auto. When Broyer's brother, Al and his fiancée Miss Harriet Saltlick of Oakland, who were following in another machine, reached the scene they found the two automobiles wrecked. Abreu was dead and Broyer was dying. The Ryan ambulance rushed the injured to a local hospital where Broyer died. Broyer, who was 25, leaves his mother, Mrs. Alice Broyer of Roseville, his brother, Al, of Roseville and his bride of three hours. Abreu was a native of Portugal. He leaves his wife, Marie, in Portugal. No other known relatives in this country survive. Mrs. C. Polacchi of Belvedere sustained cuts, bruises and possible injuries and her son, Raymond, was slightly hurt when the car in which they were riding collided with a machine driven by Frank Mello of El Cerrito at Liberty street and Potrero avenue in El Cerrito Sunday night.

Elwood Squires Is Reported As Seriously Ill

SACRAMENTO, June 15.—UP—Condition of Elwood Squires, assistant secretary to the State board of equalization, was described as increasingly serious today as his physician, Dr. John B. Lawson, made preparations to give the patient blood transfusions. Squires was stricken when under fire on charges of personal misconduct and irregularities in office which were made to the State personnel board. Probability that it would be a long time before he can be questioned was seen when doctors said Squires had not responded to treatment and that his condition was becoming worse rather than improving.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD, June 15.—UP—A tree can't be cut down within 20 miles of Hollywood without Nick Mallas popping up and asking: "Can I have it?" Mallas is just one of the many specialists who cater to the motion picture industry. He is a tree specialist who provides the shrubbery and trees for most of the sets, where such dressing is needed, in all the studios. Ready cooked food, trick dogs, skulls, cockroaches, sugar-bowl ants, Indians—with or without Harvard accents—lizards, lions, cobras and ring-tailed monkeys—all are supplied by private specialists. John Twoby's is to keep ancient automobiles in respectable running order. The machines, dating back to the turn of the century, are rented to studios. So many of Twoby's cars were used in the making of Jane Withers' "Gentle Julia" that two pictures at other studios calling for 1906-10 models had to be postponed. Tom Gubbins is the white king of Chinatown. In one hour he can change a movie street set into a bit of old Shanghai. He has a standing order to supply Orientals for the Charlie Chan pictures—11 children and a Mrs. Chan. Jim Spencer knows virtually every Hawaiian on the mainland and can round up native dance bands and bona fide hula dancers in a hurry. The Al G. Barnes Circus, which winters 20 miles from Los Angeles, supplies most of the circus animals, players and circus paraphernalia for pictures, and Charles Flores, Jack Doyle and Walter Cameron purvey trick horses and other livestock. The World War still is one of the richest fields of drama available to pictures, and this means that 1914-18 model airplanes often are needed.

GIRL QUILTS AT END OF MILLION MILES IN AIR

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—UP—Katherine May, the first girl to fly a million miles as a worker in one of women's most modern professions—an airplane stewardess—tonight laid her chic uniform among her souvenirs and opened her hope chest to take out the coronation which will be the uniform of her new career—that of housewife. She formally deserted the airways for the kitchen in announcing her forthcoming marriage to Ted Johnson, of Salt Lake City, Utah, airline dispatcher who sent her ship into the sky numberless times. "I know I'm going to miss my work although it did become just riding around," she said. Petite, pink-cheeked Katherine, to whom soaring through Salt Lake City and San Francisco several times a week since 1930 became monotonous, had refused to abandon the air lines until she achieved one ambition. "I met Ted three years ago," she explained, "and we finally decided to get married last January but I was so near to the million mile mark that I couldn't bear to quit flying until I had passed it. I have kept a log book of my mileage since the first flight six years ago. I knew that on the trip that ended here this morning I would have reached the millionth mile." ed. Garland Lincoln, wartime American pilot, keeps an assortment of them, including real and imitation French Spads. READ THE LATEST WORLD NEWS IN THE RECORD-HERALD

HEAT HELPS SORE MUSCLES

Heat may be used with very good results as a treatment in a variety of conditions attended by muscular soreness or stiffness. Further, the treatment appears to be equally effective whether the muscle is sore because of a chemical irritation, as seen in muscular rheumatism, or because of an injury resulting from an accident, as seen in sprains. Heat will be found to provide relief from muscular soreness regardless of whether a disease or an injury is the cause by reason of the fact that heat will speed up the circulation of blood through the damaged part. Healing must depend primarily upon getting a good flow of blood through the area which has been injured and this flow will then bring to the part the materials needed for repair and will at the same time, wash away the waste products encouraged to accumulate because of the injury. Although we can not hope to do anything which might be called "healing" the injured or irritated muscle fibers, we can do various things to attract to them, the blood supply which will bring about healing. The blood will do the healing, and the primary aim of any treatment used is to encourage the blood to reach the part. Such encouragement is given when heat is used. For example, heat will cause the blood vessels themselves to dilate, or grow larger, which means that a larger flow of blood may be accommodated. Heat will also be of benefit because it causes the contracted muscles to relax, thus lessening muscular tension, and paving the way for complete rest of the part which will encourage the most rapid healing. Heat may be employed in all cases of muscular soreness or stiffness, such as that due to over-use of the muscles, to minor sprains, to muscular rheumatism or fibrositis, and in fact, in nearly every case of muscle injury. It may be employed with benefit in those forms of backache located in the lower part of the back, including sacro-lumbar joint injury and including the type of backache brought on by incorrect posture. In addition it may be used with excellent results as one of the forms of treatment employed in chronic arthritis, although in this case, the injury is primarily one of the joint structures rather than a muscular injury. Several ways of applying heat to provide relief from muscular soreness and stiffness are available and which one is to be used, depends partly upon the site of injury and partly upon convenience. For example, baking the injured area with the deep-therapy lamp for 20 minutes or longer often produces splendid results; or the patient may be given a valuable treatment with the diathermy which generates a deep heat. However, in many cases, such physiotherapy treatment may not be available and the hot bath, the hot-water bottle, or hot applications may then be used instead. One of the simplest treatments consists of folding a towel, wring it out of water as hot as may be borne and then applying this to the painful area, covering with a dry towel. The towel must be changed frequently, however, and a fresh one used as the old one becomes cool. If you are bothered by any type of muscular soreness, try using heat and see for yourself the benefit you derive from that. Not only will you secure a relief from the soreness, but at the same time, you will find healing made more rapid.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Fibroid Growths)

Question: Mrs. D. V. M. writes: "Will you please give me some information about fibroid growths?"

Answer: Fibroid growths are the most common type of tumor occurring in the uterus. Generally speaking, it may be surmised that after the age of 40, one woman out of six, has developed a fibroid. In many cases, the presence of the growth will give rise to no symptoms whatsoever and the patient may feel well in every way. In other cases, the tumor will produce menstrual disturbances. Sometimes, these tumors are least likely to occur in the woman having borne several children, however, this rule does not always hold good. As a general rule, two or more fibroids are found together, and the removal of the first fibroids which form will not be followed by the development of others. Most of the troublesome symptoms resulting from fibroid growths are brought about by the mechanical pressure of the growth. For example, the larger growths will cause pressure on the bladder, causing the patient to complain that it is difficult to retain the normal amount of fluid in this organ. When the tumor interferes with the flow of liquid outwardly through the urethra, then an inability to empty the bladder will be noted. It has been my experience that the small tumor is best left alone and that with the use of a fasting and dieting regimen and the taking of Hot Site baths, that the tumor may be expected to shrink in size. This is most likely to occur in the patient who has not yet experienced the menopause, as a gradual decrease in size of the growth during the menopause phase is fairly common. However, when the fibroid tumor is quite large, then surgical removal may be indicated. If you wish additional information, send for my article on UTERINE FIBROIDS. This article is available to any patient interested, and may be received by writing to me in care of this newspaper and enclosing one large, self-addressed envelope and ten cents.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now Science has found that the regular use of Listerine will offset excessive offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halts fermentation and putrefaction, a major cause of odors, and then counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. See how much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.
